6.1. ACCESS & EQUITY GUIDELINES

UNET is committed to meeting the needs of the individual Students and the community as a whole, through the integration of access and equity guidelines.

UNET will ensure that equity principles for all, regardless of race, gender, age, social or educational background or any disability that may be present are implemented through fair allocation of resources (including human resources) and the right to equality of opportunity without discrimination.

UNET will ensure that no applicant for admission to the RTO will be disadvantaged in any way by virtue of their race, gender, age (recognising of course the minimum age), social or educational background or disability.

Staff and students may contact the Training Manager and/or the CEO and their trainer for further information and/or support regarding this access and equity policy.

UNET is committed to meeting the needs of the individual students and the community as a whole, through the integration of access and equity guidelines.

UNET will ensure that equity principles for all, regardless of race, gender, age, social or educational background or any disability that may be present are implemented through fair allocation of resources (including human resources) and the right to equality of opportunity without discrimination.

UNET will ensure that no applicant for admission to UNET will be disadvantaged in any way by virtue of their race, gender, age (recognising the minimum age), social or educational background (recognizing course entry requirements) or disability.

At all times UNET will endeavour to:

- Ensure the establishment of non – discriminatory student selection procedures which encourage fair access for members of underrepresented groups.
- Ensure that all policy and procedures reflect access & equity principles.
- Ensure that any relevant access and equity issues are considered during course development, delivery and assessment.
- Ensure that staff members understand this policy and are aware of its implications.

Students need to be aware that there are two types of discrimination:

- 1) Direct discrimination occurs when a person is treated unfairly because of their gender, race, and age or because they have a disability.
- 2) Indirect Discrimination is more difficult to identify and often occurs unintentionally. Indirect Discrimination often occurs when there is a requirement (a rule, a policy e.g., in Assessment, or a system) which appears fair but has an unfavorable effect on one group compared to another. If the impact on the policy is proportionally worse on one group over another (e.g. one culture over another, or women over against men) then indirect discrimination is probably occurring.

With those two aspects in mind, the following applies:

- Any assessment adopted must be fair to all and must not discriminate against any particular student or group of students. For example, there are students who “freeze” during written examinations. If in the trainer/assessor’s fair and honest opinion there is a student who will be disadvantaged in this way, then an oral examination or some less threatening means of assessment may be chosen for that student or for the class as a whole.

- Students who have satisfied basic entrance competencies in English, and yet still find it difficult to present assignments in that language, should be given an extension to allow them the extra time needed to present finished assignments. The extension to student of other cultures to allow them first time to write assignments in their own home language and then to translate them is an attempt to address this issue.
- Students whose cultural background may find them expressing truth differently to that normally expected by those in a basically Western type culture, need to be assessed in a way that does not discriminate against them. Trainers/Assessors need to feel free to be creative, using the possibility of written and acted dramas and/or projects of appropriate standard to ensure that assessment methods are fairly and equitably applied.
- Teasing or horseplay based on gender, race, social or educational background is to be discouraged within UNET community.

If staff members or students become aware of any policy of UNET which they regard to be indirectly discriminatory, or if they become aware of instances of direct discrimination, they are requested to draw same to the attention of the CEO or RTO Secretary immediately.

UNET is committed to clearly identifying the needs of its students and delivering service to meet these identified needs through the following:

- Students are asked declare upon enrolment, if they have any areas of disability, impairment or long term condition that may affect their training. If a student identifies that they have a disability, impairment or long term condition the trainer who will be working with the student is notified by phone, email or in person (depending on the level of sensitivity needed).
- Engaging students needs initially over the phone, through email communication or in person by listening and providing prompt solutions to their education needs based on the information that has been received from the potential student.
- Identifying students perceived needs by extracting information from our enrolment forms and providing necessary communication to trainers so that specific education needs have been identified and addressed based on the information that has been received from the potential student.
- Making students aware that assessment and delivery methods can be adjusted to meet their specific requirements and perceived needs.

6.2. COMMUNICATION

UNET is committed to excellence in customer service and will:

- Continually strive to make it easier for our students to do complete their studies with us;
- Implement innovative ways to deliver services, and provide a range of service options that best suit our student's needs;
- Identify ourselves when answering the phone and deal immediately with the students or prospect students concern or find someone who can;
- Listen to students and endeavor to provide them with prompt solutions;
- Provide information that is accurate, complete and easy to understand;
- Get back to students to ensure they are kept up-to-date with actions we have taken;
- Regularly seek feedback on our students expectations and level of satisfaction; and
- Act on feedback to continue to improve the quality of our service.

It is vital that lines of communication remain open between UNET and students.

Having access to the internet is one very useful means of communication. Emails can be sent and received at any time of the night and day. Students might be surprised to know the hours that some of our staff work – just check the time recorded in the properties of the emails we send and you'll see for yourself!

Apart from using the internet for emailing, our website will usually contain relevant, up-to-date information that will help students in the training process.

When calling by phone, students shouldn't be surprised or discouraged if they have to leave a message with a staff member or on the voice mail service. Just leave a time and number for us to get back to you. It may be easier for us to call you in the evening after business hours. Just give us a couple of options and we'll do our best to fit in with you.

If you don't have access to the internet, just let us know. We still know how to "lick and stick" a stamp.

If you like the person-to-person approach, just phone to make a time and we'll do our best to see you when we can.

Whatever happens, we'll try our best to communicate with you via the surest and most appropriate means of communication that suits you.

8. RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL), CREDIT TRANSFER AND TRANSITIONING POLICY²

8.1. RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

Specific information about RPL may vary between courses. For the RPL Guide specific to a course please see the relevant website or course information pack. Students are asked if they would like to apply for RPL on enrolment³.

The RPL process is structured so as to be cost effective and fair for both UNET and students.

Applicants who consider that they have completed appropriate training or have through prior learning and experience gained the required skills/competencies stipulated for the units of the course may be granted credit upon substantiation of that claim.

The assessment will be professionally conducted and will be valid, reliable, flexible and fair.

Evidence for RPL may include (but not be limited to):

- Evidence of current competence
- Performance, demonstration, or skills test
- Portfolio, logbook, task book, projects or assignments
- Written presentation
- Interview
- Case studies
- Other certificates or transcripts
- References / Supervisor Testimonials

If there is sufficient evidence in the application and supporting documentation, no further assessment will be necessary. If further assessment is required, it may take any practical form consistent with the assessment criteria for the claimed competencies and the principles of validity, reliability, fairness and flexibility. The form of assessment may be negotiated with the student and may consist of interview, written assignment, exam, or other method.

All RPL assessment must be conducted by a qualified Assessor.

Applicants will be advised prior to beginning the Application Procedure of what they will be charged for the RPL/RCC assessment.

Successful students are notified promptly of the RPL/RCC outcome. The Assessor advises unsuccessful students of reasons for non-recognition and steps they can take, including appeal mechanisms.

If unsuccessful, the client advised of appeal procedure and advised of study reduction time and credit transfer details.

8.2. CREDIT TRANSFER⁴

Credit transfers (also referred to as “Direct Credit”) will be applied as part of the RPL process where applicable. Students are not required to repeat any unit or module in which they have already been assessed as competent, unless a regulatory requirement or licence condition (including an industry licensing scheme)

² 1.8

³ 1.12

⁴ 3.5

requires this. If a student provides suitable evidence they have successfully completed a unit or module at any RTO, UNET will provide credit for the unit or module. Suitable evidence includes:

- AQF certification documentation issued by any other RTO or AQF authorised issuing organisation, or
- authenticated VET transcripts issued by the Registrar.

8.3. TRANSITIONING TO NEW QUALIFICATIONS POLICY⁵

UNET does not deliver and/or assess revised Training Packages or accredited courses unless they have gained approval from the registering body, confirmed by the inclusion of the revised Training Package or accredited course on UNET's scope of registration.

UNET ensures it meets the requirements of the revised Training Packages or accredited course within at least one year of the replacement training product being released on the National Register. UNET ensures that students are not enrolled in qualifications that adversely affect their opportunities for employment and/or future study pathways. Where a Training Package has been revised and new qualifications developed, student enrolments within the new qualification commence as soon as possible and no later than 1 year after publication of the revised Training Package. UNET ensures that when enrolling students that they abide by transition requirements within the accredited course documentation. New students do not commence training or assessment in any training product that has been removed from the National Register.

UNET ensures that trainers and assessors are aware of changes in the revised Training Package or accredited course and related training and assessment strategies and resources. Learners, employers and other relevant stakeholders affected by these changes are advised of how the changes will affect them.

UNET implements strategies for transitioning students to the new qualification/course or 'teach out' students in the superseded qualification/course within a timely manner, within the timeframe designated by ASQA in their General Direction, Transition and Teach Out .

UNET's management system, including management of enrolment and student records management, relevant policies and procedures are also reviewed to take into account the changes required to transition to a new training product.

10. COURSE DELIVERY & ASSESSMENT

10.1. MODES OF STUDY OR DELIVERY

Delivery options will vary between courses offered. For the course delivery options specific to your course please see our website (www.unet.org.au) or contact us prior to enrolment.

10.2. COURSE PROGRESS REQUIREMENTS

The course requirements will vary between individual courses and modes of study. Students must achieve satisfactory course progress for each compulsory study period for the enrolled qualification. Students will be informed of their progress requirements through the course information and study materials provided to students upon enrolment. If at any point during your study you are unsure of your course progression requirements then please ask your trainer or UNET staff where you can find this information.

10.3. METHODS OF ASSESSMENT

Each unit of competence may have various forms of assessment, including but not limited to:

- case studies
- role play
- practical demonstration
- written tasks
- observation
- portfolio work
- third party reports
- projects/assignments

The delivery sequence of each qualification includes delivery of pre-requisite and holistic assessment of units of competence. Where possible, units are grouped together for combined assessment. All students have access to reassessment on appeal.

10.4. FLEXIBLE LEARNING AND ASSESSMENT PROCEDURES

Our training and assessment procedures are flexible and take into account learner needs. We will ensure that:

1. All required resources for the delivery of any course are in place and maintained in good working order
2. Training and assessment will only be conducted by qualified staff
3. All training and assessment will be to the nationally set standard prescribed in the relevant Training Package or accredited course material.

This means that training and assessment you receive with us is in accordance with the national quality training framework and any qualifications you achieve with us will be recognised anywhere in Australia.

10.5. COMPETENCY BASED TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT

All accredited training programs delivered by UNET are assessed under the “Principles of Competency Based Training”.

The aim of Competency Based Training is to assess the Student’s ability to do the activities in each unit therefore assessment is based on your demonstration of practical skills. An Assessor will assess a students competence (ability) in each unit. They will receive an assessment of “Competent” or “Not Yet Competent”.

A Unit of Competence (Competency) includes the skills, knowledge and attitudes that are required to complete a task in a work environment. When students are being assessed on these tasks they will be required to perform them to the level required in the appropriate environment.

All assessment results are recorded. Students will be notified of results in each assessment and have access to their assessment records through their Trainer or the UNET office.

11. ISSUING OF CERTIFICATES & STATEMENT OF ATTAINMENTS

UNET will issue a Certificate and / or Statements of Attainment to persons whom it has assessed as competent in accordance with the requirements of the Training Package or accredited course, a qualification or unit of competency.

UNET ensures that all Certificates and Statements of Attainment issued:

- meets the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) requirements
- identifies the RTO by its national provider number from the National Training Information Service
- includes the Nationally Recognised Training (NRT) logo in accordance with the current conditions of service.

UNET retains client records of issued Certificates, Competency Transcripts and Statements of Attainment for a period of thirty years.

If a student requires a Certificate, Competency Transcript or Statement of Attainment to be reissued due to loss or damage, they can request for it to be reissued. Please note that a reissue fee applies.

UNET has a student records management system in place that has the capacity to provide the registering body with AVETMISS compliant data regarding its training / assessment services (including the issuing of qualifications).

A Statement of Attainment will be issued to students who, upon completion of their course have archived some, but not all of the required competencies for the course. Some courses may require completion of both theoretical and practical components in order for a unit of competency to be awarded. A Statement of Attainment will also be issued if the student completes over and above the required electives for their qualification.

12. WITHDRAWALS & REFUNDS

All notification of withdrawal from a course, or applications for refunds, must be made in writing and submitted via email to: admin@unet.org.au OR post to:

Universal Education and Training
PO Box 6145
Maroochydore BC 4558

If a student does not provide written notice of withdrawal before course completion, no refund will be given.

Refund policies may vary between courses. For the refund policy specific to your course please see our website (www.unet.org.au) or contact us prior to enrolment.

13. STUDENT BEHAVIOR POLICY

Students are responsible for ensuring they maintain the terms and conditions of their enrolment by adhering to the schools policies, procedures, behaviour policy, course progress and or attendance policies and procedures. Students have a responsibility to ensure they successfully complete their studies within the expected duration of the Confirmation of enrolment.

13.1. STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

All students are entitled to:

- assessment decisions based on merit and not affected by irrelevant personal characteristics
- a training environment free from discrimination, bullying and sexual harassment
- the right to raise issues or to make an enquiry or complaint in a reasonable and respectful manner without being victimised
- reasonable flexibility in study / assessment arrangements, especially where needed to accommodate their family responsibilities, disability, religious beliefs or culture.

All students must:

- follow the standards of behaviour outlined in this policy
- avoid gossip and respect the confidentiality of complaint resolution procedures
- treat everyone with dignity, courtesy and respect

13.2. UNACCEPTABLE BEHAVIOUR

To ensure all learners receive equal opportunities and gain the maximum from their time with us, these rules apply to all people that attend any of our sessions. Any person/s who displays dysfunctional or disruptive behaviour may be suspended and or enrolment cancelled. Dysfunctional behaviour may include and is not limited to:

- Continuous interruptions to the trainer while he/she is delivering the course content
- Smoking in non-smoking areas
- Attending classes under the influence of drugs and or alcohol
- Being disrespectful to other participants
- Harassment by using offensive language
- Sexual harassment
- Acting in an unsafe manner that places others and themselves at risk
- Continued absence on a regular basis without notification
- Deliberate and wilful damage to another student's property and or the school's property
- Bullying of students and staff whether physically, verbally and or electronically
- Verbal and physical abuse towards students and staff

Discrimination, bullying and sexual harassment are unacceptable at UNET and are unlawful under the following legislation:

- Sex Discrimination Act 1984 (Cth)
- Racial Discrimination Act 1975 (Cth)
- Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (Cth)
- Age Discrimination Act 2004 (Cth)
- Australian Human Rights Commission Act 1986 (Cth).

Students and staff (including managers) found to have engaged in such conduct might be counselled, warned or disciplined. Severe or repeated breaches can lead to formal discipline up to and including suspension, cancellation of enrolment or dismissal (in staff cases).

In any event the student will be notified in writing of our intention to suspend and or cancel enrolment.

Any person who receives written notification of suspension and or has their enrolment cancelled has the right of appeal through our internal complaints and appeals process.

The student has 20 working days from the date of notification in which to lodge a written appeal through our internal complaints and appeals process. Written notification must be lodged with the CEO.

If the student is unhappy with the outcome of the internal appeals process they have the right to make an appeal using the external processes.

The dispute resolution process described in the policy does not prevent an overseas student from exercising their rights to other legal remedies.

13.2.1. DISCRIMINATION

Discrimination is treating, or proposing to treat, someone unfavourably because of a personal characteristic protected by the law, such as sex, age, race or disability. Discrimination can occur:

Directly, when a person or group is treated less favourably than another person or group in a similar situation because of a personal characteristic protected by law (see list below).

For example, a student is harassed and humiliated because of their race or a student is refused enrollment because they are 'too old'.

Indirectly, when an unreasonable requirement, condition or practice is imposed that has, or is likely to have, the effect of disadvantaging people with a personal characteristic protected by law (see list below).

For example, an assessment type does not allow flexibility for when it can occur, disadvantaging a single parent who needs to care for children at the time of the assessment.

Protected personal characteristics under Federal discrimination law include:

- a disability, disease or injury, including work-related injury
- parental status or status as a carer, for example, because they are responsible for caring for children or other family members
- race, colour, descent, national origin, or ethnic background
- age, whether young or old, or because of age in general
- sex
- industrial activity, including being a member of an industrial organisation like a trade union or taking part in industrial activity, or deciding not to join a union
- religion
- pregnancy and breastfeeding
- sexual orientation, intersex status or gender identity, including gay, lesbian, bisexual, transsexual, transgender, queer and heterosexual
- marital status, whether married, divorced, unmarried or in a de facto relationship or same sex relationship
- political opinion
- social origin
- medical record
- an association with someone who has, or is assumed to have, one of these characteristics, such as being the parent of a child with a disability.

It is also against the law to treat someone unfavourably because you assume they have a personal characteristic or may have it at some time in the future.

13.2.2. BULLYING

If someone is being bullied because of a personal characteristic protected by equal opportunity law, it is a form of discrimination.

Bullying can take many forms, including jokes, teasing, nicknames, emails, pictures, text messages, social isolation or ignoring people, or unfair work practices.

Under Federal law, this behaviour does not have to be repeated to be discrimination – it may be a one-off event.

Behaviours that may constitute bullying include:

- sarcasm and other forms of demeaning language
- threats, abuse or shouting
- coercion
- isolation
- inappropriate blaming
- ganging up
- constant unconstructive criticism
- deliberately withholding information or equipment that a person needs to do their job or access their entitlements
- unreasonable refusal of requests for leave, training or other workplace benefits.

Bullying is unacceptable in UNET and may also be against occupational health and safety law.

13.2.3. SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment is a specific and serious form of harassment. It is unwelcome sexual behaviour, which could be expected to make a person feel offended, humiliated or intimidated. Sexual harassment can be physical, spoken or written. It can include:

- comments about a person's private life or the way they look
- sexually suggestive behaviour, such as leering or staring
- brushing up against someone, touching, fondling or hugging
- sexually suggestive comments or jokes
- displaying offensive screen savers, photos, calendars or objects
- repeated unwanted requests to go out
- requests for sex
- sexually explicit posts on social networking sites
- insults or taunts of a sexual nature
- intrusive questions or statements about a person's private life
- sending sexually explicit emails or text messages
- inappropriate advances on social networking sites
- accessing sexually explicit internet sites
- behaviour that may also be considered to be an offence under criminal law, such as physical assault, indecent exposure, sexual assault, stalking or obscene communications.

Just because someone does not object to inappropriate behaviour in the training environment at the time, it does not mean that they are consenting to the behaviour.

Sexual harassment is covered in the training environment when it happens at classes, at training-related events, between people sharing the same training environment, or between students outside of the training environment.

All students, staff and volunteers have the same rights and responsibilities in relation to sexual harassment. A single incident is enough to constitute sexual harassment – it doesn't have to be repeated.

All incidents of sexual harassment – no matter how large or small or who is involved – require Trainers and managers to respond quickly and appropriately.

UNET recognises that comments and behaviour that do not offend one person can offend another. This policy requires all students, staff and volunteers to respect other people's limits.

13.2.4. VICTIMISATION

Victimisation is subjecting or threatening to subject someone to a detriment because they have asserted their rights under equal opportunity law, made a complaint, helped someone else make a complaint, or refused to do something because it would be discrimination, sexual harassment or victimisation. Victimisation is against the law.

It is also victimisation to threaten someone (such as a witness) who may be involved in investigating an equal opportunity concern or complaint.

Victimisation is a very serious breach of this policy and is likely (depending on the severity and circumstances) to result in formal discipline against the perpetrator.

UNET has a zero tolerance approach to victimisation.

13.2.5. GOSSIP

It is unacceptable for students and staff at UNET to talk with other staff members, students, supporters or suppliers about any complaint of discrimination or harassment.

Breaching the confidentiality of a formal complaint investigation or inappropriately disclosing personal information obtained in a professional role (for example, as a manager) is a serious breach of this policy and may lead to formal discipline.

13.2.6. PLAGERISM

UNET will not tolerate deliberate attempts at plagiarism. It is regarded as a serious act of academic misconduct. Plagiarism is defined as:

- Word for word copying of sentences or whole paragraphs from one or more sources or presenting of substantial extracts from books, articles, and other published material without clearly indicating their origin.
- Submission of another student's work in whole or in part as though it were your own work.
- Submission of work written by someone else and submitting that work on your behalf.

14. COMPLAINTS AND APPEALS POLICY

The purpose of Universal Education and Training Ltd complaints and appeals policy is to provide a student with the opportunity to access procedures to facilitate the resolution of an issue, dispute or complaint. The internal complaints and appeals processes are based on the principles of conciliation and mutual cooperation.

In the case of a complaint by a student regarding assessment or any other issue relating to the Training provided, this policy allows for the following:

- students need to feel free to discuss any issues about any Course related matter with any Staff Member they think will be able to assist in resolving the issue. If the issue can be resolved in initial discussions, no action is required.
- in the case of assessment Issues, the student should first approach the Trainer/Assessor conducting the Assessment.
- if the issue cannot be resolved informally in these initial discussions, the student should follow the formal Complaints Procedure below.

No charge or fee of any kind is applied to any appeal of Assessment or any other matter. Internal complaints and appeals processes are available to students at no cost.

14.1. COMPLAINTS AGAINST ANOTHER STUDENT

Complaints brought by a student against another student is dealt with under the Student Behavior policy section.

14.2. INFORMAL COMPLAINTS

In the first instance, Universal Education and Training Ltd requests there is an attempt to informally resolve the issue through mediation/informal resolution of the complaint. Students should contact their a UNET Staff Member in the first instance to attempt mediation/informal resolution of the complaint. If the matter cannot be resolved through mediation, the matter will be referred to the Chief Executive Officer and Universal Education and Training Ltd internal formal complaints and appeals handling procedure will be followed (see above).

14.3. FORMAL COMPLAINTS

The Student has the option of submitting a formal complaint in writing to either a Staff Member, or directly to the CEO, at any time regardless of any prior communication with other staff on an issue. If a Student submits a formal complaint in writing to a Staff Member, the Staff Member is encouraged to try and resolve the issue with the Student.

The process of this grievance procedure is confidential and any complaints or appeals are a matter between the parties concerned and those directly involved in the complaints handling process. The student must notify the UNET in writing of the nature and details of the complaint or appeal. Formal complaints and or appeals are to be lodged in writing as per the complaints and appeals policy.

A student can lodge a formal complaint in writing by either:

- i. An email directly to the staff member with the words "Formal Complaint" in the email subject
- ii. An email to administration (admin@unet.org.au) with the words "Formal Complaint" in the email subject; or
- iii. An email directly to the CEO – (paul@unet.org.au) with the words "Formal Complaint" in the email subject; or
- iv. Post to:

Regardless of whether a successful outcome is achieved or not with the student as a result of the Staff Member's response, the Staff Member must provide a copy of the formal complaint to the CEO with in three (3) days of whichever is the earlier of either:

- Resolution of the situation, or,
- A period of fourteen (14) days of the initial receipt of the formal complaint in writing

If the situation has not been resolved by a Staff Member who has received a formal complaint in writing within fourteen (14) days, the CEO will either attempt to resolve the issue, or ask an Appointee to try and resolve the situation.

If the CEO receives a formal complaint in writing directly from a Student, the CEO will contact Staff involved in conducting the Course and request that further details relating to the complaint be provided to him within seven (7) working days.

Ultimately, the CEO will then be responsible to ensure that either the aggrieved person is now satisfied, or to communicate the organization's position on the situation.

The CEO will ensure that a record of the resolution, or attempted resolution, is recorded via email.

The CEO may also implement an improvement relating to the situation.

Each complainant has the opportunity to present his/her case to the Chief Executive Officer.

The formal grievance process will commence within 10 working days of the formal complaint in writing or appeal with the Chief Executive Officer.

Where the internal complaints and appeals process is being accessed because the student has received notice by the Universal Education and Training of the intention to report him/her for unsatisfactory course attendance, unsatisfactory course progress or suspension or cancellation of enrolment, the student has 20 days from the date of notification in which to lodge a written appeal.

Students may be accompanied and assisted by a support person in all relevant meetings. Meetings will be minuted and each party will be given a copy of the minutes at the end of the meeting. A copy of the minutes from the meeting will be kept on our file and a copy on the students file.

Once the Chief Executive Officer has come to a decision regarding the complaint or appeal, the student will be informed in writing of the outcome and the reasons for the outcome and or action to be taken and a copy will be kept on our file and a copy will be kept on the students file.

If the complaints process finds favour of the student, Universal Education and Training Ltd will immediately implement the decision and any corrective and preventative action required. Universal Education and Training Ltd undertakes to finalise all grievance procedures within 10 working days.

For the duration of the appeals process, the student is required to maintain enrolment and attendance at all classes as normal.

If the student feels that the matter is still not satisfactorily resolved then the student will be referred to external organizations of appeal (e.g. Anti-discrimination Board, DET complaints). Students may contact the Australian Skills Quality Authority, if the student is concerned about the conduct of Universal Education and Training.

14.4. EXTERNAL APPEALS PROCESS

If the internal complaints procedure does not find in favour of the student or the student is dissatisfied with the result of the internal complaints procedure, he/she will be informed of the external complaints and appeals process available to them at their own cost.

In the case where a student's complaint or appeal is to be heard formally by an independent person(s) external to our organisation the student will have the opportunity to present their case. The independent person(s) will usually be:

- a. Independent mediation is available through the Dispute Resolution Branch, Department of Justice and Attorney-General. There are six Dispute Resolution Centres throughout Queensland.

At present there is no fee for use of this service, but this may change.
- c. Nothing in the Universal Education and Training's Dispute Resolution policy negates the right of any overseas student to pursue other legal remedies.)

If a student is concerned about the actions of the provider they may approach the Australian Skills Quality Authority. The Australian Skills Quality Authority has the power to suspend or cancel the provider's registration or a course if a breach of the requirements of registration provision is proved. ASQA has information about how to make a complaint on their website (<http://www.asqa.gov.au/complaints/complaints.html>):

- If you have a problem with your training provider, you must seek to resolve this problem by following your provider's formal internal complaints process.
- ASQA will only consider your complaint if you include evidence that you have already exhausted your provider's complaints and appeals process. (In exceptional circumstances, ASQA may consider your complaint without this evidence. Contact us on 1300 701 801 for more information.)

If a student chooses to access the provider's complaints and appeals processes the registered provider must maintain the student's enrolment while the complaints process and appeals is ongoing. The Chief Executive Officer will determine if participation in studies will be in class or under a supervised arrangement outside of classes.

If the internal or external complaint handling or appeal process result in a decision that supports the student, the registered provider must immediately implement any decision and/or corrective and preventative action required & advise the student of the outcome.

If it is expected that complaints will be resolved in a timely manner. In the case where more than 60 days will be required to resolve a complaint the complainant will be informed in writing and updated regularly on the progress of their complaint.

UNET will maintain a record of all complaints and appeals and their outcomes in its email accounts and by making appropriate notes on its database. The information from all complaints will be used to apply any required corrective actions.

15. OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY

15.1. COMPUTER FACILITIES

Extended periods of work with computers can result in general fatigue and eyestrain, whilst repetitive tasks and incorrect posture will result in consistent aches and pains. Consequently current OHS guidelines indicate that people working for long periods at computers should:

- organise their work so as to allow a five to ten minute rest every hour. This rest should include a change of position and stretching exercises as appropriate.
- improve posture by adjusting chair height so that the operator's feet are comfortably placed on the floor (or footrest) and your arms are at an approximately 90-degree angle.
- adjust the screen position to avoid reflection from lights and windows and at a suitable distance so that it can be easily read.

15.2. ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT

Appropriately licensed or trained personnel only should perform any maintenance or repair work on electrical equipment. E.g. Students should not offer to do any task related to fixing electrical equipment such as overhead projectors etc.

15.3. FIRE SAFETY

We will undertake to communicate the procedures involved in evacuation and the location of fire equipment to Students at each training facility for each course; and to users of the office at least twice each year.

All users of a Training Facility need to be familiar with the location of all EXITS and fire extinguishers. Please consult available maps to determine location.

It is the Staff & Students' responsibility to understand fire drill procedures displayed around the premises. Staff & Students are asked to attend any instruction on the use of fire devices.

15.4. FIRST AID

- All accidents must be reported to staff. The accident and any aid administered must be recorded by staff involved.
- In the event of a medical emergency, dial 000.

15.5. LIFTING

Students are encouraged not to lift anything related to the training provided by this organization unless they do so voluntarily and take all responsibility for any injury caused.

If students do choose to lift something:

- Never attempt to lift anything that is beyond your capacity.
- Always bend your knees and keep your back straight when picking up items
- If you have experienced back problems in the past do not attempt to lift heavy objects or persons. Ask someone else to do it for you.

- 2) Following the identification of a risk, the results will be circulated to staff, including administrative and training staff.
 - (a) Staff will be asked to complete an RFI outlining any changes that they believe need to be made.
 - (b) The CEO will assimilate any staff comments into a Risk Treatment and Schedule Plan.
 - (c) The CEO will ensure that the recommendations of the Risk Treatment and Schedule Plan are followed by regular monitoring of progress in consultation with other relevant staff members at the staff meeting.

Students are invited to contribute to this process. If a student becomes aware of anything that might potentially hinder the delivery of our training, they are encouraged to contact us.
